

Consultations with "Doc"

Over the past 50+ years Peter Brown has helped literally thousands of poultry enthusiasts with their poultry problems. So much so, that he has been nicknamed the "Chicken Doctor" by those he has helped. Everyday more people call seeking his advice for their latest problem. He is the go to guy when it comes to the Health and Welfare of Backyard Poultry and the Small Flock Holder. He has an A.A.S., degree in poultry science and is a self trained Poultry biologist. Peter is the regular guest speaker on the Chicken Whisperer Radio Show, where he shares his vast poultry knowledge with the listening audience. He is the founder and owner of First State Veterinary Supply.

A "Consultation" is a one on one discussion about your poultry problems with the "Chicken Doctor". Consultations are pre-scheduled and available on a call back basis Monday thru Friday. Weekend appointments can be scheduled as well for an additional fee. By taking this approach we will be able to provide better advice concerning your Poultry Diseases and their related complications.

The consultation fee will be charged per-incident for ALL consults with the "Chicken Doctor". Fees must be pre-paid with a credit card with Cackle Hatchery. At that time you will receive a rededicated phone number and paid invoice for your phone consultation.

Thanks .

Keep em Healthy,

Doc
